

 ANMED HEALTH Laboratory Services	ANMED HEALTH DIRECTORY of LABORATORY SERVICES TEST MENU
	Document Number: TD.GEN.0006 Revision Level: B Effective Date: 12/07/12	Page: 1 of 1

PURPOSE

Proper specimen collection and preservation is critical in providing accurate laboratory test results.

The purpose of the AnMed Health Directory of Laboratory Services Laboratory Test Menu is to provide vital information on appropriate specimen types, collection containers, preservatives, volumes, and handling and storage requirements.

AVAILABILITY and ACCESS

Printed copies of the documents comprising the AnMed Health Directory of Laboratory Services are available upon request by calling the Client Services area at extension 1816 or (864)512-1816 or toll-free at 800-868-5877.

The most current and controlled information is contained in the electronic Directory of Laboratory Services available on the AnMed Health Employee Portal (INTRANET) for customers with access to the AnMed Health computer network and via the INTERNET through a link on the AnMed Health website at www.anmedhealth.org.

EMPLOYEE PORTAL (INTRANET) ACCESS

To access the AnMed Health Directory of Laboratory Services via the Employee Portal:

1. Choose the My AnMed Health tab across the top of the page, then choose Laboratory Services displayed on the left side of the page. Test Directory icon and direct link is located on the right of the page.
2. General test directory information, forms and test menu may be accessed.

INTERNET ACCESS

Access to the AnMed Health Directory of Laboratory Services via the internet may be found at www.anmedhealth.org.

1. Choose "Lab Services" from the Additional Services drop down box located in the upper right side of the home page.
2. Select view the test directory on line link located at the bottom of the page. You may search for tests and forms.